MODEL	BAUMUSTER	RELEASE DATE
SLR McLaren 722 Edition	199.376	APRIL 2007

SLR McLaren 722 Edition Highlights

- Limited edition super sports car that serves up a boost in engine output, more dynamic handling, improved aerodynamics and distinctive interior appointments
- 150 vehicles produced worldwide; 24 units planned for the United States
- The SLR McLaren 722 Edition is named after the Mercedes-Benz 300 SLR driven to victory by British motor-racing legend Stirling Moss and his co-pilot Dennis Jenkinson in the 1955 Mille Miglia – the classic Italian endurance race. Their start number was 722 denoting the car's start time of 7:22 a.m.

Performance, Handling and Exterior Highlights

- Higher output 5.5 liter AMG supercharged V8 engine (+24 hp to 641 hp)
- Top speed increased to 209 mph (+ 2 mph)
- New lighter weight 19-inch forged aluminum wheels reduce unsprung weight
- Larger diameter ceramic brake discs provide better stopping performance
- 10 mm lower vehicle ride height and stiffer suspension improves vehicle dynamics
- New carbon-fiber front splitter improves down force for more precise handling at higher speeds
- Rear spoiler angle adjustment provides greater directional stability and improved braking performance

Interior Highlights

- Carbon fiber sport seats upholstered in semi-aniline leather and Alcantara for improved lateral support
- Thicker, padded leather and suede wrapped steering wheel with new aluminum shift paddles enhance the driver's grip and control of the vehicle
- Carbon fiber trim, '722' insignia embossed on the seat backs, '722 Edition' badge on center console, distinctive red seat belts and red contrasting stitching throughout cabin
